“ My condolences to the family. I worked with Al years ago for an advertising agency there was John, Stan and Alan, Al was soft spoken and was always kind in words and deeds. Mere words cannot convey the overwhelming feeling of disbelief that can result from the death of a loved. May it comfort you to know God promises that the dead will live again.-Isaiah 26:19

“ My father-in-law had a sense of humor and quiet charisma about him. I loved how he started calling me "Little Mamma" after his son and I announced we were pregnant. He would also offer little comments/warnings to be sure I was taking good care of his grandson while in my belly. I know Alan was happy to become a grandfather and I felt his love in all of our interactions and conversations. I am devastated that he won't get to meet the baby. Chris and I will do everything we can and hope our friends and family will help us teach our son about who his grandfather was so he can still grow up knowing he has the best parts of him in him. <3
