“ I will always remember how you took me to my first steak house and you were shocked that I never went to one .. we always had fun going out.. even though you didn't want to stay out all night..lol and also I loved how outgoing you were. You had those magnets on your fridge of all the places you went and I was just so amazed. Sky diving, I always told you how crazy you were for doing that..lol You were always so dedicated to your work. You were such a clean person..lol everything always had a place. If I ever felt like I needed someone to talk to you were there. Such a huge family man trying to take care of everyone and always so caring. I think about your smile and giggly laugh and personality all the time.
