“ My Aunt Alice had such a calm presence. Her voice was so soft n sweet that it was as though she sang every word she spoke. She's the one who got me started doing crossword puzzles. She will be missed.

“ To My cousins and their families: My heart goes out to you at this time for the loss of my Aunt Alice. Please find comfort in the words at Isaiah 26:19. This gave me comfort.

I found this comforting as well:

The dead are in the safest situation imaginable, like an infant protected within its mothers womb. Indeed, those resting in the grave are perfectly preserved with the limitless memory of Almighty God. And soon they will be brought back to life, entering a happy, welcoming world much the way a newborn is greeted by a loving, waiting family! So, there is hope even in the face of death.... This I copied from in insert in our Awake magazine. I hope it comforts you all as it has for me. I love you all.
