“ The best memorie i have is when I held you for the first time and you smiled that toothless smile. I knew I was blessed. God i can't believe this. I love you so much 💕

“ I knew Alicia from an early age when her mom would bring her to church. She had some life altering struggles with addiction that I'm all too familiar with. I remember when she brought her back to church a couple months back God gave me the love for her and the understanding and compassion. I put my arms around her and held her and didn't want to let go, it felt like I was an extension of what the Lord was feeling for her, and I was hurting for her too. I'll never forget that. I didn't want to let go. She was a beautiful soul

“ Alichia was a very head strong, "I'm going to do this no matter what" kind of person. She had a smile that would light up a room and an attitude too lol. She was a very giving and carrying person. Everyone who knew her was definitely touched by her. She had her flaws but who doesn't. I will always remember her as a very bright, always smiling kind of person. What I remember about her the most is how she would give me hugs and tell me she loved me. Then just before she would leave I'd tell her to be good and be safe. And as always I'd hear I'll try but I'm not guaranteeing anything with a smile on her face. I love and miss her very much. ❤️😎❤️
