“ I was talking to my son of people I heard of high esteem or made a difference in my life from childhood, Arthur was one from SM. I have great memories of him. When I transferred over from the other jr high, there he was in my homeroom class, it was like old home week. My buddy, my pal....We talked and talked of El Camino and people we knew, it was great and at that point being at Lakeview now wasn't so lonely anymore. Oh, the rainy days in the hallways, Mr Brodys gov't class, 8th grade graduation night at Righetti. Anyway, he was a great person, funny, smart and I never forgot him. I ended up moving back into town and at the rival HS, never to see him again. I lost my friend, you know when your that age you move on and we did. But you never forget them. Which leads me here today. When talking of him, I got curious, I wonder what he's up to in his life some 42 years later? I was shaken to my core when I saw an article of one of his colleagues talking of this great journalist, that sounds like him, I thought and when I went on reading, I was in denial. This can't be. I need to investigate, I remember his mom, Gwen, that checked and their old address in Cali and, there it was. It confirmed it all, my childhood friend who meant the world to me was gone. I along with all of you are just beyond grief for this lovely man. I knew he was destined for greatness and he did it, his family, and his spoken words for many. Bless him forever and all he touched. In my mind you will be forever young, below is my memory of him in 1981. Thank you for the gift of friendship Arthur. RIP.
