“ Just know that when Korde's Spirit ascended into Heaven, there were many loved ones waiting there to greet him and welcome him to eternal paradise. Korde will never hurt... he is safe and happy... and that's howkme he will be FOREVER. He KNEW he was loved when he was in the womb, and he knows it even more now that he's in Heaven. His family left on Earth are crying, but in Heaven... there is peace... and he already understands that he was never meant to be on Earth for long. May God bless all of you and empower you with strength and courage to live each day.##imported-begin##Kme##imported-end##

“ Rely on “the God of all comfort.” The Bible says: “Throw your burden upon Jehovah himself, and he himself will sustain you.” (Psalm 55:22) Prayer to God is not some sort of emotional crutch. It is real and vital communication with “the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our tribulation.”—2 Corinthians 1:3, 4.

God’s Word, the Bible, provides the greatest comfort of all. The Christian apostle Paul stated: “I have hope toward God . . . that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.” (Acts 24:15) Thinking about the Bible-based hope of a resurrection can be the greatest comfort while grieving the loss of a loved one.^ That is what Lauren, a woman whose teenage brother died in an accident, found to be true. “No matter how bad I felt,” she says, “I would pick up the Bible and read, even if it was just one verse. I picked verses that were particularly encouraging, and I read them over and over again. I took comfort, for example, from Jesus’ words to Martha after Lazarus’ death. He said to her: ‘Your brother will rise.’”—John 11:23.##imported-begin##Joslyn##imported-end##

“ I am so very sorry to read of your loss. When we suffer a loss we often feel helpless and alone, I know I did. What I found comforting was encouraging words from Jehovah found at Revelation 21: 3, 4. “ I Sincerely Offer My Condolence: Baby Korde' H.A. Redding (Wood) death has no doubt cast a shadow over you as you go about your daly life because death brings us face-to-face with the fact that he is gone too soon. His presence will be dearly missed. So despite the pain of grief, let it be your resolve to continue to work your way through pain and grief. Sometimes we may feel paralyzed by a tragedy such as this: Remember: God can help you to endure any and every problem they may face. He will give you the "power beyond what is normal" to go from one day to the next (2Corinthians 4:7).##imported-begin##Geneva Humphrey McClendon##imported-end##

“ May the hope of Psalms 34:18 bring the Redding family much comfort during this time, God's word assures us that he sees the difficulties and hard times that we go through. He will help you and your family in this time of sorrow. We can also look forward to a time when death will be no more (Revelation 21: 3, 4). Taking in accurate knowledge of the living God Jehovah assures us better times ahead.##imported-begin##Ariel##imported-end##

“ To the Family of Baby Korde' when a child dies, it is particularly hard for the mother. Thus the Bible acknowledges the bitter grief that a mother can feel. (2Kings 4:27) Of course, it is difficult for the bereaved father as well. Please read what David lamented as 2 Samuel 18:33. God is a God of all comfort, draw close to God in prayer, for the Bible promises that "he himself will sustain you."--- Psalm 55:22 You have my deepest sympathy##imported-begin##Bobbie Smith##imported-end##

“ Dear Family: Those we have held in our arms for a little while, we hold in our hearts forever. (author unknown) I wish to extend my sincere condolences to you on the loss of your precious baby, Korde. Although I don't know you personally, it still pained my heart to read of your baby's death. I just wanted to say that our loving God truly understands your pain and cares about you (1Peter 5:7) He yearns to reunite children with their parents. He has already lovingly made provision to do so by means of the resurrection (John 5:28,29; Mark 5:35-41; Matthew 22:31-33). He will soon wipe all your tears away and heal your broken hearts (Revelation 21:4, Psalm 147:3). As you treasure the memories of little Korde, keep God's promises close to your heart, for God does not lie. His promises will surely come true (Titus 1:2) My deepest sympathy to you.##imported-begin##joyce jones##imported-end##
