

Mrs. Bernice Wood

January 7, 1929 - January 26, 2017

Celebrating The Life Of Bernice Boyer Wood:

Bernice (Boyer) Wood was born to John Boyer Jr. and Anna Belle (Hood) Boyer on January 7, 1929 in Detroit, Michigan. She was the third oldest of eight children; with five preceding her in death: Effie, James Lee, George, Elmer, and Walter; and two siblings remaining, Stanley and Gwendolyn. Bernice was known by most people as "Niecey".

Bernice was educated in the Detroit Public Schools system. Bernice was a very religious person who accepted Christ at a very early age, where she attended the Church of God of Baldwin in Detroit.

Bernice ("Niecey") was joined in marriage to Amos Lee Wood Sr. on February 11, 1950 and to this union four children were born, Deborah, Amos Jr. (deceased), Ron, and Shelia. Bernice and Amos were married for 67 wonderful years.

Bernice was a quiet, but opinionated woman who always put her family first, even before herself. She loved working in her garden amongst her beautiful flowers. She also enjoyed home decorating and listening to gospel music. She liked watching Lifetime movies on TV, but her favorite was watching her Detroit Pistons play basketball.

She was most comfortable at home being surrounded by family. Bernice was also a very wise woman who was always ready to listen and provide good sound advice for her children. She enjoyed telling stories about their childhood and she loved her husband very much and enjoyed talking about how they met. She and Amos loved taking family vacations and over the years traveled extensively throughout the country. She was particularly fond of long scenic excursions.

Bernice made her transition on January 26, 2017 with family around her.
