“ I want to convey my sincere sympathy to the Cobb family and friends. Gene and I met at a small telemarketing company called Tel-Save. Gene became my backup as a network administrator at the time. Gene didn't know too much how to manage and support a network, but he was eager to learn. His skills and management capabilities excelled enormously. I referred Gene to the DMC where his IT career took off. Gene became a prominent figure at DMC-IT, his management skills where like no other. He was an authoritative man who went the bat for his staff and what he believe was right. Gene became like a Father figure to me after my Father passed. He got me through a difficulty time in my life that I'll never forget. Right now the only regret that I have is loosing contact with him, it been years since I've talk to Gene.

I'm just like the majority of our society that have adapt to assuming that I will one day give Gene a call, and I keep forgetting that tomorrow is not promise to nobody. Reading through some of the threads of narratives about Gene, I notice acquaintances and friends that I worked with in the passed that I haven't spoken to in years, but the norm is that we all seem to come together in time-of-sorrow and I'm going to try and make an effort to change that on my part and will be emailing friends I know just to say Hi! Gene AKA (Repo) you'll be missed. Again, my prayers and thoughts go out to the Cobb family, if you need my assistance or support in any matter, feel free to contact me.

“ To the Family: May I offer my sincere condolences on the death of your loved one. Man is helpless in the face of death, for no human can provide escape for his soul from the hand of 'Sheol' or "Hades', mankind's common grave (Psalm 89:48). However, consider this: if death would keep mankind perpetually in its bonds, it would be stronger than God, wouldn't it? Surely, death is no match for the all-powerful Source of life!! (Psalm 36:9). All those who are sleeping in Sheol or Hades are in Jehovah's memory, and he will provide escape for each and every one of them by means of a resurrection. (Rev. 20:11-14). This is Jehovah's promise to us, He will call and they will awaken at his command (John 5:28,29). May you find comfort in his promises that are soon to be fulfilled (Titus 1:2). My deepest sympathy to you.##imported-begin##joyce jones##imported-end##

“ Dear Cobb Family, please know that GOD is with you during this difficult time. He will provide comfort and strength in ways you could not imagine. Gene, truly will be missed as he was a man that could make you laugh at any circumstance. He was my supervisor as well, and he always was concerned about his employees. He made everyone feel special and loved. We all will remember some of his special words of encouragement :)

God Bless

“ I'm sending my sincere condolences to each of you. We have all experienced the loss of a loved one to the enemy death, and the emotional pain is all the same. Our Heavenly Father feels the pain that you are going through. He holds out a promise that one day soon he will wipe all tears of sorrow from our eyes forever and death will be no more (Revelation 21:3-5) Additionally, He promises that all those in the memorial tombs (graves) will hear His voice and come out.
