“ Dear Brother Charles, I am full of emotion as I remember the fun and love we have shared over the years. Your memorial service on Saturday was beautiful. The interment at Great Lakes National Cemetery today was so full of dignity and indicative of the great love and respect you had for the Air Force. It brought back many precious memories; and it also permitted your family to release you peacefully and joyfully.

We'll always love you.

“ Charles we all(my family) was talking this past week and remembering over the years when you sang silent night and I'm going to work on till the day is done. “ Charles Blessett our Uncle, and Brother-Inlaw,, It's been a pleasure to know you. We remember how you could say your numbers that was on your dog tag when you served in the Air Force. It was amazing to me see how you could remember and how it would just roll off your tongue like water. We all Sharon Bobby, Sean, BJ, Jermaine, Kennie, Leon and Toni was talking about you and remembering how you loved the Motown sound (The Temptations, The Four Tops, The Miracles and others}. We remembered the " DO THE CHARLES" dance that you did and my mother and her sisters would get in line and say "Come on Ya" DO THE CHARLES.

Mama was telling us how you Loved to sing Silent Night by the Temptations, and how the family would always come together on Christmas Eve over Auntie Mickie and Uncle Robert house and you would lead the family in that song. We remember you singing Precious Lord and I'm going to work on until my day is done. We were very little then, but our mother over the years kept it fresh in our mind. NO NO NO NO !!! she would not let us forget.

Bobby - Rest Well Brother.

“ Hey Uncle Charles! I hear you're taking a trip. Well, before you go, I'd like to take a stroll down the lane of memory! Do you remember how we used to sit and talk and sing and watch movies together? Do you remember, how everytime someone approached you, or brought to you any of your favorites like: a overflowing cup of black coffee, a cigarette, conversation or play your old time music, you'd say" Um, Um, Um! Thank you Jesus!!! I mean you said it with all of your heart! Do you remember, us sitting up late nights in Georgia watching the temptations movie and war movies and you telling me stories about the groups you used to sing with and the stories about your time in Service to our country? Do you remember the war stories? Do you remember telling me the same stories about how many miles you've walked in your day? Do you remember sittin on the porch speaking to everybody in the neighborhood that walked by ? Do you remember, sitting in the kitchen sipping on your famous black coffee as I cut your hair? Do you remember, how you always lead the hymns at our family functions and gatherings making sure not to forget to sing (Unto my day is done)? That you did, I understand, that you were singing with my mom until you could no longer speak. That is so you! How about the time, when I had just come back from the Dairy Queen and you asked me for some of my cone and thought it was so good you almost ate the whole thing? I had to ask that one! Well, I do! I remember all of those things you did and the things we did together that made the friendship and time we had together so great. I learned so much from you, Uncle Charles, as you were so knowledgable about everything imaginable to man it seems. I'm glad we had the opporunity to spend time together and have memories that noone could erase. I'm oh so saddened though, that I cant be present at your big send off to your new eternal home. Just know, that my heart is there. I will be imagining a tall handsome man in uniform, recieving his papers ,stating the end of his service and orders to report to his final destination of rest and peace. Well, everyone knows that you loved to walk and as you would always say" I done walked all across the world, for hours and days at a time". Well, my friend, this walk wont be that far and it wont take very long. I will now imagine you standing at attention while you await the heavenly call "Enter soldier" AKA, Charlie B!, Lastly, I envision a smile on your face and those famous words " Um, Um, Um! Thank you, Jesus!!! Now, I say ' Go on Soldier, a better place awaits you! As we've discussed, I'm not a coffee drinker, but I'll drink a Cappucino, I'm not a smoker, so I won't take a puff, we both loved to sing so I sing one of your favorites all in memory of you today! As I look at your picture, I see Madea's boy and her face. My eyes filled with tears, both from the memories and the thought of me not being able to celebrate your life in person with the others who love you. I will see you another time, my uncle, my friend! (Uncle Charlie B)

*Love you always,
Your niece Jackie*

“ Uncle charles! Remember, I used to call you Unckie Charles not Uncle Charles. That was our litttle thing.If there one one thing a person could know for sure that you would be doing without fail when they saw you, and that was (drinking a cup of black coffee filled all the way to the top with some spillin over (smile!), and a song coming from your lips, whether it was an old school soulful song or a song of praise, Charlie B was singing it! I remember everytime somebody would approach you, the first thing you'd say was " Um, Um, Um, Thank you Jesus"!!! I mean you'd say it like you had won a million dollars. I don't know why, but you were always trying to get me to get some coffee. You knew I wasn't a coffee drinker, but you were gonna offer it anyway! Then we'd talk for endless time about everything from your war days, the groups you sang in and the miles you've walked in your life. We became pals. I learned a lot from you, because your thinkin process was always so vast and oh so Intelligent. Where in the world did you come up with half of the things you were thinkin? You know, It's been a while since I've seen you in the natural, but I've always had you on my mind and always will. Although I cant be present to send you off, my heart is ever so with you today, as you march in and receive your official welcome to your new eternal home and your life is celebrated ! Now here's to you Uncle Charles! I don't smoke, so I wont have a cigarette, I don't drink coffee, but I'll have a Cappucino, and we both love to sing so I'll be singing one for you! All in remembrance of our special time together! Now go ahead soldier! Get to marchin!

Love you Unckie Charles!
