“ I remember calling Smutty (about 40 years ago) and told him my name and that I was Earlyn's sister. He yelled "Earlyn, get the phone!" I immediately felt acceptance from him. He has been the best brother-in-law I could ever hope for. I miss our conversations and I am going to miss hearing him sing happy birthday to me with that special touch at the end. I grew accustomed to it and always waited for it. In a deep baritone voice, he sang "Scooby do da day" or something similar. I could never get it right. I wish I had recorded him. Smitty loved God and family. My husband (Bill) has lost a lot of family members in rapid succession. We flew to California for his grandsons funeral the first week of June. Bill stated that he really didn't want to go to any more funerals, but in his words, "I was attached to Smitty." We talked about how before my conversation with Smitty ended, he would always ask "How is old Big Time Bill?" My sister had a good and wonderful husband who loved her beyond words. I am deeply hurt over the loss of my dear brother-in-law and the pain that my sister is enduring. Through it all, I DO know that Smitty is with God and I DO know that God has his everloving arms around Earlyn. To God Be The Glory!

I loved it when Uncle Smitty called all his nephews “killer.” No man had greater love for his family and friends. Rest now uncle, in the arms of Jesus.
