“ Demetrius (also known as D and Meech) was my brother. During his battle with cancer, he never complained. We are so proud of the amount of strength he displayed inside and out. D was quiet and very loyal and protective of my mother and our family. He always looked forward to seeing his 3 kids and 12 grandkids.

I'm so glad that he had a personal relationship with the Lord and we know exactly where he is. We loved him dearly and he will be missed.

Demetrius was my younger brother who wanted to live a long life like anyone else . He fought a brave battle against this aggressive form of cancer...even when I saw him on the day he passed. He was a very helpful care giver to our mother when she became less mobile after her stroke. Demetrius was "The go to man" in the neighborhood when family or friends needed help with a project like grass cutting, setting up Christmas lights or utilizing his skills in the construction business. I will miss his greeting, "Hey what's going on, Man"? whenever I walk into momma's house now. He was my main communication connection to what was going on with old friends from the neighborhoods where we grew up in the Highland Park / Detroit, Michigan border line. God gave me two brothers to play sports and hang out with. However, he needed my last living brother, Demetrius, at this time. So, I must trust in his will. Although moving forward now is very difficult, Demetrius will always be in our hearts until we meet again. Much love, my brother. .
