“ Hey mommy... Just dropping in to say hello and I miss you. I feel you every single day with me. When I'm happy, sad, confused, misunderstood, angry, even when I'm chilling. You're there with me. I love you so much and your death still baffles me. It's not good or bad that you're away. But, I'm more than certain that you're not in agony anymore. You were suffering through your own traumas and you did the very best you could have. I don't blame you for living us as kids. I've grown and your absence is giving my mind to rest. Gosh, I have so much I want to share with you. But God doesn't make mistakes so he chose to bring you closer to him. I forgive you and I want you to know that I will always remember you. I love you and see you soon. Your daughter, Twink

“ Mommy, it's gonna be 4years next month that you've been away. It hurts really bad to know you're not here, but everyday it gets easier. I came to visit you before my trip ended for Carlita's funeral. It was peaceful, chilly, and quiet. Baby Juice seems to keep your memories alive and remembers both of his grandparents. Please keep us protected and watch over us. We love you and miss you every day. 📧 Sending my love through the skies 📧 See you around Lady❤️🙏❤️

“ My condolences go out to your family. I know losing a loved one can be difficult, which is why it's so important to lean on the God of all comfort as mentioned at 2Corthians 1:3,4. I hope my words were of some encouragement.
