

Ms. Dorthia Carolyn Glover

September 25, 1954 - August 12, 2018

Celebrating The Life Of Dorthia Carolyn Glover:

Dorthia Carolyn Glover was born on September 25, 1954 in Detroit, MI two parents that loved her and her siblings, Edmund Stewart Jr., and Debra Denise Harden.

She went to Detroit Public Schools. While in high school she participated as a candy striper volunteering in hospitals, she always loved helping others. She learned how to play the bass guitar at age 15, in which she got to accompany her brother Edmund in the African Soul Band and was labeled as the best female bass guitar player in Detroit.

Dorthia got married at 16 years of age, and to this union two children were born Donnie, and Kimberly Laird. Their children were the love of their lives, and that love remained until the untimely passing of their father Donnie Laird. Being a young mother she took care of her children with the help of her family. Not long afterwards, she met a man that stole her heart forever, Mr. Ernest Glover Jr. and she happily remarried in 1986. This union continued until Ernest passed on October 16, 2016.

In 2004, she accepted Jehovah in her life and became a servant for him.

She pursued her education at Ferndale Medical Center and became an EMT, from which she retired in 2005.

On August 12, 2018 after a long battle with illness Jehovah found it befitting to call her home.
