“ Mom, I'm sitting here in the doctor's office when I come across this, you obituary. I've read all the love that was wrote about you, but we already knew you are so love. I miss you so much. This Family is trying to get out of hand a little but I was taught never give up on family, and I promise I won't. I never realized how strong you was until I had to try to be strong for my family members. But I do know God and patience and I thank you for leaving me with both. Mom i miss and love you continue to watch over us all and get your rest. Save my spot ❤️

“ Mom I just can't come with the fact that you are gone. I keep seeing that smile on your face and how happy you were, so jealous I didn't kiss and hug like Marcia did. If only I had known that would be the last cup I tea I would make you or hear you laugh out loud, I would have stay up all night.

The warmth of your body made me believe you were still here but it was you waiting on all your kids to arrive and say their goodbye. It seems as though you were prepared to go But I was not and I trying hard to move forward but I Miss you with every breath I take. some days I can't breathe .

But you taught me well and I know God will get us all to a healing place where I can breathe again. So rest peacefully until I see you again.

Love you for Life your daughter Brenda
