

Mr. Everett Dacosta Richardson Jr.

August 20, 1960 - April 3, 2013

Everett DaCosta Richardson was born August 20, 1960 in Detroit, Michigan to Everett Walker Richardson (2010) and Freddie Mae Richardson. He was one of six siblings, Marvin Conway, Regina Conway, Derek Conway and Dennis McMillan all of whom preceded him in death. His youngest siblings Frederica Richardson and Alexander Conway live on to cherish his memory.

Everett Richardson attended the Detroit Public schools for his formative education. He attended Mackenzie High School and in 1976, he left Mackenzie High School in search of his life pursuits. In 1978, Everett started working at the Mail Delivery Service. Eventually, Everett met and married Tonya L. Lyle-Richardson. From this union was born Kevin Walker Richardson on October 29, 1986. In 2009, Tonya L. Lyle-Richardson had preceded him in death. In 2005, Everett was diagnosed with Diabetes, an illness that would affect the rest of his life. Everett praised God anyway, never taking any blessing for granted.

In 2012, Everett retired from the Mail Delivery Service after 32 years of service. Everett kept in close contact with his family members that would keep him strong and kept him positive while keeping his faith in God. He was the “glue” of the family and always kept tabs on everyone’s whereabouts to ensure the family ties remained intact. Everett was also the family historian; if you needed to know about anyone or anything in the family he could tell you.

On April 3, 2013, Everett would pass into the next life only 12 hours after his loving mother, Freddie Mae Richardson.
