

Mr. Freddie Lee Holt Jr.

December 28, 1951 - January 12, 2016

Going Home Celebration For Freddie Lee Holt, Jr.:

Freddie Lee Holt Jr. was born on December 28, 1951 to the late Freddie Holt Sr. and Fannie May Rhodes in Linden, Alabama.

Freddie was raised under the guidance of his grandmother and father in Alabama. During his teenage years he moved to Detroit where he attended Northwestern High School.

In 1970 Freddie began working at Ford Motor Company where he labored for 39 years.

In 1977 Freddie met the love of his life Thelma Collins. By 1984 they were united in holy matrimony, where he accepted three children into this union Michael, Shenetha, and Christopher.

After retirement, he started landscaping for people in his community. Freddie loved to be outdoors in the rain and snow. No matter the season he would be out in it doing something. He loved to dance and sing the blues.

Freddie was the patriarch of his family, caring and providing for those in need. He loved the highway and was on it every chance he had. It would be nothing for him to hop in his truck, pack his wife and grandchildren in it and travel to Alabama and Mississippi.

Freddie was a very family oriented person and loved his family more than life itself, especially his grandchildren. He loved to travel and would help anyone who was in need no matter how well he knew the person. He was well known for his famous cooking. His barbecue ribs with his special sauce, sweet potato pies, oxtail soup, pancakes they were all one of a kind.

On January 12, 2016 at 64 years of age, God called his devoted servant home.
