Harvis moved from Alabama to Detroit, Michigan in 1945. He was a Metal Finisher at Chrysler Warren Stamping plant for 35 years until he retired in 1982.

Harvis met his soul mate and love of his life Elizabeth (Byrd) Young in 1947. He met Elizabeth when he was renting an apartment in Detroit. She was his landlord. They soon fell in love and got married. They were joined in holy matrimony on November 20, 1948. They were married for 59 years until Elizabeth Young went home to be with the Lord in 2008. To this union 7 children were born, resulting in 14 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and 7 great-great-grandchildren.

Harvis was a very loving family oriented man. He loved spending time with his family, always instilling great family values to keep the family united. In Harvis' younger days, he loved fishing, going to the horse racetrack, take family vacation road trips, and attend family reunions. He was a great bid whist card player. He was a good storyteller and loved to sing to his wife. In his later years, Harvis loved spending time with family and watching his great-grand and great-great-grandchildren grow. He loved sitting in his Lazy-Boy reclining chair with the remote control in his hand watching his favorite show Animal Planet. He loved watching TV and eating. He had a strong appetite for sweet foods. Harvis always had an open heart and welcomed everyone into his home. His home was always open for family.

Harvis made his transition and went home to be with the Lord on April 20, 2016.
