“ I'm going to miss you saying, "I love you sister multiple times when ever we spoke on the phone or saw each other. You would also say to me not goodbye. I will see you later. I would say, ok Peace out. I enjoyed seeing you on your birthday. Thanks for riding with me that day. Peace out little brother. I love you and missing your voice.

“ I will always remember his encouraging words and his willingness to lead a helping hand. How he would never expect the word bye. How he always Thank the Father for waking him every morning and praying for loved ones and enemies. How he always love to have friendly but challenged dedates about anything with with my daughter lol. I will remember the love he had for his daughter and siblings And I will hold close to my heart the special love and friendship we shared. Fly High Hassaun and we will see you later

I will miss you cuz I feel like I am speaking directly to you so I will. You were my biggest cheerleader, and I will miss that how you would call me endlessly, how I would ignore your calls sometime just because I didn't always want to be how great I was. Last time we talked was about the passing of Lin a week to the day before you. You said you were like my Dad and I say Na who you think you are Cain from Menace to Society. How you had a crush on my wife. All the shows we did together on stage and on TV. Us selling Shaq shirts. Us being in the studio yeah bro people didn't know you were a star in more ways than one. Perm, TaBoom Hassaun I promise I will keep your fire burning and I still will uplift you every time I do something. Live N Color biggest ticket seller love you man. When you left I took it so hard but not now. God got you and I know you had him. See you when I get there.
