In Loving Memory of Henry Dennis Freeman

Henry Dennis “Hank” Freeman was born on September 19, 1941 in Lake Providence, Louisiana to Henry Frank Dobson and Viola Freeman. Henry was raised by his grandparents in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Hank moved to Detroit, Michigan in the sixties.

He was employed with Ford Motor Company from 1968 until retiring in 2001. He loved clothes, cars and the ladies. Hank had a heart of gold. He would lend a helping hand to almost anyone who asked, but make sure you asked him to give and not borrow. He knew everyone to whom he loaned money and you would be expected to give it back at the time you specified or he had a few choice words. He was known to speak his mind.

He had a regular routine which consisted of eating breakfast every morning at Eagles Coney Island on Joy Rd at Dexter. Trash talk with his friends and a love for his children and grandchildren.

Hank was ill but would never admit it. If you asked how he was doing his reply was the same that he was fine. On Sunday November 20, 2016 his suffering came to an end. Hank went to better place.

“ The Bible calls Jehovah God "the source of life." (Psalm36:9; Acts 17: 24,25) The One who gave life to all living creatures is certainly capable of restoring life to some one who has died..
