

Mr. Herman Headen

July 19, 1936 - November 24, 2013

The Life Journey of Herman Headen:

Herman Headen, 77, of Detroit, Michigan, passed away peacefully on Sunday, November 24, 2013 at home. Born in Hamtramck, Michigan on July 19, 1936 to Loman and Caroline Headen he lived most of his life in Detroit.

Herman is survived by his wife Sherron of 37 years, four sons, Anthony, Brian, Clarke, and Jason; sisters, Velma Daniels and Verlis Woodgett, and many loving nieces, nephews, grandchildren and extended family.

Herman was a charismatic and a very passionate person who inspired friends and family to pursue their dreams and to live a fruitful life. After serving his country with the military, he started his career in the retail industry at the Winklemans Department Store. After trying to his hand in retail, Herman ventured into the real estate industry as a property manager. He managed day to day operations at the Fisher Building and other businesses which eventually led him to managing multiple towers at the Renaissance Center in downtown.

Herman hobbies were watching movies, reading books, and learning about historical events as well as wildlife and most of all sports. Herman was an all-state football and track star in high school. He coached his son's little league baseball teams, and made sure to attend every game they played. As a true

Detroit he had an affinity for Faygo Pop and Better Made Chips, especially when it was time to watch the game. Herman was a very loving man and displayed great character, integrity, and humor with everyone he encountered.
