“ Hey brother you was my protector my strength and loved your family to your last breath I am glad made me your sister, we had some wonderful times playing your favorite game follow the Queen most times you kicked my butt but I also kicked your also. I love you and enjoyed are talk and having eaten so many coney dogs together and you picking me up in a car of your choice how you loved you children, cousin, and siblings. I know you grieved over losing mom 16 months ago but look you are up there with our grandparents, mother, sibling, uncle Jack, and Terrell. Thank you teaching me everything to know about the streets of Detroit. If anyone wanted to maneuver around Detroit you could get them there in a split second your death came as a shock to us all but I am so glad you was my airport runner for the last ten years. Love ya always rest brother know I loved you from your sister Pabst I know you are definitely in a better place you are with the Almighty God your work is done on earth you ran like never before. Your memory will live on in your family and with Jay and Chantel.

“ Today I celebrate the life of my cousin JB from across the miles. Whenever I saw him as we were growing up he always looked like he was up to something but he also made me laugh so I was cool with it. :-). As I grew older we did not stay in touch but I knew he was up to something...he was holding it down for his family, his friends and their families. He was a man who took care of others. I am so grateful that when I was not able to, he took care of my father until his very last breath and I know it wasn't easy but he did it willingly and lovingly. I thank God for JB and I pray for those who depended on him daily. It is not easy to be without someone you love but I pray that it is comforting to know that he loved hard, he fought hard and his legacy will live on through our love for him and our memories. Earl, Angie, Lisha, Willie, Sharon, and Walter I love you...be strong through this storm...hold tight to God's promises because he won't let you fall. And young James, I know it sucks right now and it may hurt for a long time but know that the seeds your father planted in you will not one grow but blossom. It is ok not to be ok but remember to never give up and stand tall...you are a James and that means that you are strong and will persevere.

Yes cousin that boy loved his uncles and refused to see them not living amongst family. JB was hard but kind and considerate would not let his family live alone or be in a nursing home. That was definitely out of the question for him I miss him so much cousin. 😞
