“ Grandma, it's so hard going on without you.... I miss you more today than yesterday Remembering our long talks all of the times we would watch our tv shows together how excited we would get to see what's going to happen next..... Missing being able to count on you to put me in my place when my temper is out of control and the extra love that you gave just because you always knew exactly what I needed... Who knew that we had so much in common ... Well this message is getting way too hard ... I'll just let you know that you know that I don't have a green thumb like you ... However , I think you would be proud to know that Myia has really done a great job keeping the flowers just right ! You were & will always be my main chick!!
