December 22, 1941 - September 11, 2014

Celebrating The Life Of Jane Evelyn Works:

Jane Evelyn Works was born December 22, 1941 in Nashville, Tennessee to the parents of Thomas Reed Hailey and Florine Etta Jones. Jane accepted Christ at an early age at Boyce Street Baptist Church, in Nashville, Tennessee. Jane was educated in the Nashville School system. Jane was once married to Rueben Oscar Works.

Jane moved to Detroit, Michigan in 1970 with her only begotten son Terry Hailey. She was employed at Ford Motor Company as an inspector. Jane worked for Ford Motor Company until she retired in 1992. After Jane retired she realized God still had work for her to do. She dedicated her time and talent working as a foster grandparent through Catholic Social Services: First at Peggy's Place and later at YWCA Interim House loving and caring for children that were victims of domestic violence. Jane joined Christland Missionary Baptist Church under the leadership of Pastor C.L. Branch. She worked on the Mothers Board, Altar Circle, Pastor's Aide, and Mission. She loved the Lord and worked until she became ill and the Lord called her home.

Jane was a 16 year breast cancer survivor, she committed to helping other cancer victims. Jane stated she was here because she had something yet to do. She knew she was blessed because of the dedication to the Lord and all her surviving relatives and cancer friends. Jane Works never questioned her life path: instead she cherished simple acts of kindness and service to others. Her motto was "I am the Cure". Therefore, Jane will forever be grateful to Susan G. Komen and Bristol Meyers Squibb for their love and compassion which will forever be etched in her heart.

Jane departed this life on Thursday September 11, 2014, at Sinai Grace Hospital.
