Her Journey:

Janie B. Sanders was born on March 20, 1927 in Starkville, Mississippi to the loving parents of Casey Fox Sr. and Lottie Hall Fox, who preceded her in death.

Janie confessed Christ at an early age and was baptized at Greater Ebenezer Baptist Church in Starkville, Mississippi.

Janie loved the Lord and continued to live a Christian life. In 1966, she continued her walk in Christ, joining Grace Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

Janie was educated in Starkville where she graduated with honors. She later attended Marygrove College, receiving a certificate of completion in December 1975 for the course as operating room refresher. Janie worked as a surgical technologist. She loved working in the medical field.

Janie married James Stalling and moved to St. Louis. In that union two daughters were born; one preceded her in death (Annie Boykin Hayes).

Janie married Robert Sanders and moved to Detroit, Michigan. Both husbands preceded her in death.

Janie loved to cook. Every Friday she would always have her cat fish and anyone was welcome to have some. Janie's unselfishness and caring spirit caused people to love her. She and friends would celebrate at her favorite restaurant, Red Lobster.
