In Loving Memory Of;

Jimmie Lee Brown was born on October 25, 1929, in Louisville, Mississippi to the late Alexander and Lucinda Reese Brown. To this union four children were born: Carrie, Robert, Alexander and Jimmie. All of his siblings preceded him in death.

Jimmie accepted Christ at an early age. He graduated from Lanier High School in 1949. Jimmie joined the United States Army in 1950 where he served in the Korean War. Upon his discharge in 1951, he received a Purple Heart

Jimmie moved to Detroit, Michigan in 1952 and became employed at the United States Post Office. In 1958 he graduated from Detroit Institute of Commerce with an associates degree in business. There is where he met the beautiful Kay Frances Monroe. On October 1, 1960, they united in Holy Matrimony. On September 11, 1962 a child was born, Sylvia Renee Brown. Sylvia was the sparkle in Jimmie's eye.

Jimmie or lovingly known as "Uncle Pep" enjoyed fishing, a good cigar and beautiful women. "Oh Lordy Lord!" He truly lived life to the fullest. And then on October 3, 1991, was born the other sparkle in Jimmie's eye was his granddaughter Kiara Nicole Brown. Lovingly known to most of you as Drizzle.

“ I will forever miss his sense of humor, zest for life, and that deep bass voice especially when he laughed and said 'Hello' but with so many 'o's that it seemed to never end... HELLOOOOOOOOOO UNCLE PEP!

Love and sincere heartfelt sympathy and regrets to the family during this difficult time of grief and loss.

“Whoever wrote the lyrics to “My Way” must’ve had Mr. Jimmie Lee Brown a.k.a. “Uncle Pep” in mind. HE LIVED, and encouraged others to do the same! His smile could shine through the darkest of situations and the roll of his eyes could cut deep, if necessary - but that was rare. Uncle Pep was a lover, not a fighter. “Cool as the other side of the pillow”. He often showed us in life how to make a gracious exit. We only wish he would’ve hung around a little longer, this time.
