“Karen was always so loving and full of life—she truly had a smile for everyone. I came to know her during our time at MBFS, where we first connected over the fact that I knew her daughter, Jill. From that point on, our friendship grew naturally through employee resource group activities and the many moments we crossed paths at work—sometimes when she needed to pass a quality gate on one of my projects, always with good humor and grace. The last time we spent significant time together was about a year ago when we volunteered side by side at Habitat for Humanity. We spent the day painting porches, catching up, laughing, and talking about Jill—her beautiful singing—and, of course, Karen’s beloved grandbabies. It was such a simple day, yet one filled with the joy and warmth that Karen brought to every interaction. I hope it brings some comfort to know how much happiness Karen spread and how deeply she touched the lives of those around her. She will be remembered with great fondness.
