“ I met Tashia while working at General Motors and we kept in touch even as we both started out with our new jobs. Tashia was the sweetest young lady and when she loved she loved hard. The love she had for her little boy was infectious! Every time she spoke about him or pulled out pics to show me, her face and smile would just light up! I looked forward to seeing pics on Facebook of her celebrating his birthday each year. Tashia my friend I am praying for eternal peace for you and make sure you infect those in Heaven with that beautiful smile!

“ This is such a shock to me. I remember when I met Latashia, working at First American Mitigators and when she became pregnant with LJ. Her stomach was so huge. We'd discuss how small she was, but how big her stomach was. That was ALL baby. I will keep on mind the sound of her laugh and your love for little LJ and how proud she was to watch him grow. Her love for him was apparent. By posting his experiences and photos every year on his birthday. Her smile was contagious.
