“ I am saddened by the transition of Mrs. Thompson at the same time I am grateful to have known her. She played a part in my upbringing and because of her I have so many fond memories of the past. Of her piling us up in the station wagon and taking us to the Christmas Carnivals at Cobo Hall, along with all the trips to their Grandmother's house. She was such a fun loving person and she always treated me like one of her own. I believe that I also speak for others in saying this as she earned the title of "mom" as many referred to her. Ms. Thompson was full of wisdom and I always admired her fighting spirit, not to mention that million dollar smile and those cute dimples! She will definitely be missed. To her family, please know that she is still with you, and now you will understand her even more that she is not in the presence that you can see. No longer does she have to be in pain, and I truly believe that SHE chose her time of departure for Ms. Thompson was one of the great ones... Teresa

“ "May you find comfort in knowing that your dear one is safe in the memory of God, who remember every detail about her and bring her back again." We're assured at Isaiah 25:8 that "God will swallow up death forever." Instead of having to "weep with those who weep," all earth's inhabitants will "rejoice with those who rejoice."--Romans 12:15.
