“ Our dearest "pops". What can I say....In a million years, my mind never could've imagined that you would go to the hospital and not return for us to have one last laugh, see you come out your room and smile as you go into the bathroom or kitchen, or the chance to walk past your doorway and you ask if I wanted any of the variety of snacks you had stacked In your room. Thank you for the memories "pops". James, Amber and the kids will be OK with time, the family and I promise you we will look after them. We are all deeply saddened that you are gone, we had no idea you were getting weary, and was ready to rest. We love you "pops"???. You have transitioned from labor to reward, and heaven is receiving "one funny guy". REST IN PARADISE "POPS"....ALL OUR LOVE, STEPH, JAMES & DANI
