“ Melvin was such a good friend. He took care of our school's outside appearance through his lawn company for years. He was very philosophical and very insightful. I watched how he communicated with the young men who worked for him. He was always trying to teach them something when he communicated with them. He was very philosophical, always questioning and seeking answers about life in general and looking to take better care of himself and his self growth.. Melvin was a thinker and enjoyed sharing and debating his ideas. Our birthdays are ten days apart and we would discuss how bull headed we both were when arguing a point . The people that played a role in the development and growth of Nataki Talibah Schoolhouse will always have a special place in my heart. Thank you so much, Melvin , for your work as well as your friendship .

Your dear friend,

“ Our hearts are with you in love and sympathy. May God who does all things well comfort you and give you peace. Melvin and I were classmates and friends. May it comfort you to know that others share your grief and are praying your strength in the Lord. Shirley Gray-Smith, ECTS Class of 1967.
