“ It is hard to know where to start. Mike, Rhonda, and Michael moved in the same time we did almost 27 years ago. Throughout all those years, we have shared many laughs, stories, etc. I think he must have liked to hear my weird laugh so he would tell me one of his many jokes. When my husband was out of town, he would keep a good eye on me and the house-I know, because when the lights were on when they were usually off, he gave me a call to ask if everything was ok. His love of nature and animals was very apparent. We would hear him calling the birds to chow down on the food he had just put out for them. He had a cat that he befriended and that cat would visit every day until one day it brought Mike a gift of a dead bird and that sort of ended that. He cherished his family and grandchildren and frequently told us how proud he was of Michael's children and how well they were doing in school. He even took time to visit the other children at the school and that was so appreciated by the teachers. We will miss you, dear friend, and until we see you again, rest in peace.
