“ Although I only knew Michael for a brief moment in my lifetime, he left a lasting impression upon me. He instilled in me a competitive nature and tenacity which I lacked until I encountered him as a raw 13-year-old back in 1969. He was a heckuva ballplayer whom I idolized and once my game developed I patterned it after his. Michael took no prisoners on the basketball court and later on neither did I. I last saw Michael in circa 1971. I think he was home for Christmas break from college. I never got a chance to thank him for what skills I learned and developed from watching him play. I know that God has received a good man in Michael L. Walker. May God continue to bless and look over your family during this trying time. "Got much love for you, my Brother!"
