August 2, 1966 - December 11, 2015

Celebrating The Life Of Monica Faye Hedwood:

Monica Faye Hedwood was born August 2, 1966 to her parents, the late Climonteen and James Ray Hedwood in Detroit, Michigan. She confessed Christ at an early age and had a strong belief in God. Monica spent most of her childhood in Louisiana and graduated from Glen Oaks High School in Baton Rouge.

In 1984, Monica was united in marriage to Donald Edwards. To this union one child was born, Clemencia. Later, Monica relocated to Detroit and attended Lawton Business School where she studied Criminal Justice.

Monica loved people and everyone loved her southern hospitality. Countless times, she has opened her heart and doors to friends and family and will always be remembered for her caring and loving spirit. Not only was she a great mother to her own two children, she was a mother to so many. Monica loved to cook and was affectionately known as Mama Mia. Nobody can compete with her gumbo, shrimp etouffee, dirty rice, stuffed bell peppers, goulash and chitterlings. In 2006, she opened up a restaurant called Seven Soul. Even after its doors closed, Monica continued to sell dinners on Fridays which was the highlight of everyone's week. Along with cooking, one of her favorite things was to play cards. She also was a top bid whist card player on her team "The Real Deal", who was a second family to her.

“ My sympathy to the family. No one is ever prepared for the death of a loved one. When death strikes the pain, the grief and the feeling of helplessness can seem unbearable. May God sustain you and give you the strength to cope.-2Corinthians 1:3,4
