“ Dear Sandy,

My friend, sister and cousin. I want to remind you what you said the other day about Mackie parking that big Truck on the side of I-275. How he would run up the embankment to your house banging on all of your door and windows. He would shout "Hey San open up this door I'm hungry, I know you're in there" then you would laugh and get up.

You also said that Mackie would start pulling open all of your drapes and say "Let some Light in this house".

Please remember how much he has helped you and he will always continue to help you. Just remember to always let the Sunshine in, keep those drapes open like he said "Comb your hair!"(smile). Mackie will be watching you he will never leave you. Always know that he brought you so far don't go back.

Even when you lose your way, you'll get through because there is someone who will be watching you...MACK.

I remember Mackie with such a beautiful face and a "soaring spirt" just like an eagle. This eagle has flown to "The Other Side". Mackie you were so funny, an infectious laugh, daring, adventurous and really has lived. To me you "Could fly higher than an Eagle". Whenever you see a "Soaring Eagle" up in the sky think of Mackie and that beautiful, beautiful face.

I pray to God that he gives you and Cheyenne much strength to believe, even though the mountain is high believe, the river is so deep but still believe. Somehow you will again make it through this storm. As God has said "This too shall pass".

GOD does not expect you to handle this all by yourself, he has also said "This Battle is not Yours, it's the LORDS.

You have been through many storms but you continue to land on "solid ground". Continue to stand Sandy for all of us especially Mackie.

I love you girl,

“ Dear, Sara & Vanessa

Our thoughts and heartfelt prayers are with you. Mackie couldn't sing a lick ever since he was a little boy. I remember one of his favorite songs he used to sing over and over again which was "I Shot the Sheriff...but I didn't shoot the Deputy". Me and Sandy used to laugh and San would shout "Shut up boy we are tired of that same old song"(smile).

I will always think of Mackie when I hear it..let's keep all of his songs in our hearts.

My Love Always
