“ It is an honor to pay my respects to Mr. North and to his family as they celebrate his life. I have had the pleasure of knowing and loving as a dear friend Vicente, the son of Mr. North. He is a principled, loyal and self directed young man, and a great testament to the legacy of his parents. I will keep this family in my prayers. God's blessings abound, and farther along the way we will understand why He calls us home at particlar times.##imported-begin##Dr. Na Tosha Gatson##imported-end##

“ Jen you were the first friend I met in Michigan and thanks for the pleasure of meeting your family. Anything I didn't get about you was instantly understood within seconds of being in the company of your Dad. I clearly remember thinking, Wow! I get it! Mr. North, a man with a heart of gold and larger than life is his soul. I trust the good memories lighten your family's sorrow and strengthen you for each tomorrow. With Deepest Sympathy to you your family.

“ When I was young, we didn't have the throwback Jerseys of today. I used to write on the back of my T-shirts Walt Frazier #10 or Earl Monroe #15. As I grew older, those Jerseys were available to me but I never had the urge to buy one. When my Uncle Howard died and then my father Bill Jones, that's when I knew why. You see, They don't make those Jerseys with B. Jones, H. Jones or C. North on the back. No disrespect to anyone who may have a jersey, but from what I've learned about life from these three men, these are my heros. Because of these three men, I know I can fly like an eagle. They are the wind beneath my wings. I will always LOVE y'all

Peace and Blessing

“ Uncle Charlie – it is difficult to sum up the many influences you have had and will continue to have in our lives. Observing, and listening, (laughing with and at you) to you while in your presence, prepared us for any and every thing this world will ever send our way. You raised a fleet of men ready for the world, who will continue to remain strong for this family in these hard times.

“ Uncle Charlie,
There were three men in my life that meant the world to me. Dad, Uncle Howard and YOU. I feel kind of empty right now but I know that you are all together laughing and talking! My world has been better because of you. You were so proud of Joe and Bill and they loved the way that you would make them laugh. "I'm ready sir" is a game that I, as well as Tony, Keith, Mike, Kenny, Jennifer and Chuckie will never forget!!! We could never beat you! I pray that you have found peace in the loving arms of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Your loving niece, Lynnne##imported-begin##Paula Hightower##imported-end##

“ My dear cousin, my childhood playmate and protector. I remember all the trouble we got into when we were kids. Like stomping grapes in the bathtub on Gladstone, trying to make wine! Or the time, I said a bad word in the back seat of the car while we were playing cowboys. I remember you took a lot of my whoopings for me 'cause you were the oldest. I remember how you used to sing that old Nat King Cole song, "Dinner for One" when you came home from California as if you had met Nat. Most of all, I remember the look of pride you had when I graduated from college. Everyone else sat up in the stands and waved as I walked into that stadium at MSU. But you came down real close, down so I could see you right in front of me, giving me the the high five sign. You were my hero and my friend. I will miss you so much. Tell Pat I said hello. I will see you both on the other side. Please save me some "Good and Plenty" candy. God Bless!

“ To the North Family. My earliest memories of Charlie is when I was in my teens and my dad, Ret. Lt. Donald Hills Sr., and Charlie would stop by the house while they were working. My husband also knew him and we both visited his boat which he loved. We later joined the Detroit Police Dept. where Charlie would give as much advice as he could to keep us both safe. He was a good man and will be missed. May he rest in peace. PO Rorey Hampton and Ret. PO Sidni Hampton.##imported-begin##The Hampton Family##imported-end##
