“ Our prayers are with you at this difficult time. Death is always harder than words could ever express. As the bible declares, "it is a sting". Please remember that stings are painful, but stings don't last forever. They do heal in God's own timing. Just know that we serve a God who is well able to comfort us as no one else can. Place your loved one in His care and trust Him to carry you through the days ahead. When you feel that you can't make it, rely on His strength, His love, and His comfort. We love you so much and you are certainly in our hearts and in our spirits.##imported-begin##Victor & Shawn Bean & Priosha Anderson##imported-end##
