“ LaCesha be encouraged and know that your father is in a better place. He doesnt have to suffer anymore. When those said moments arise be comforted by knowing that he is finally at rest and hold on to all of the good times. I can see him know with his cane standing on the corner waiting for you to walk up Linwood leaving McMichael.

If you need me I'm hear.

Your friend always...##imported-begin##J. Barnes##imported-end##

“ Mr.Daryl Clark,

My heartfelt prayers are with you in this time of sorrow. May you find comfort in knowing that you are being lifted up in prayer and know that God comforts all and know that weeping may endure for a night, but Joy comes in the morning. Be strengthen.

“ Donna, there are no words I could provide that will comfort your heart and shield you from pain. I can remember when you first told me about your dad. I remember how you looked forward to those days that you would have to take him to his treatments. How you talked about your father always with joy and love. I could tell by the words you used and the stories you told how much you truly love your father. Know that he loves you just as much and he is now there with his father telling Him about you and the time you all spent together before he was called home. My love to you and your family.##imported-begin##Trish Lewis##imported-end##

“ Coach Clark: i was sorry to hear that your father had made his transition. Had I known when I saw you ever so briefly at the Athletic Banquet, I would have given you a personal condolence message. You and your family have my most sincere condolence. Remember that God has your back and he will always be there for you.##imported-begin##Charlene Smith##imported-end##
