“ *To Lou, Mr & Mrs Jefferson, Annette and all the rest of Herc's siblings, and family. Only being in Herc's presents 2 short times seemed like I knew him for years. On our 1st meeting he & his wife Lou invited myself & about 8 others to his home in GA. when we all got the word of his passing it felt like our own brother. From what I saw & heard about him he lived his life to the fullest & sure he will continue to in Heaven. Our deepest sympathy to the Jefferson family. “ Lou,
God promises that He is “near to those who have a broken heart” (Psalm 34:18 NKJV). When we are troubled, we must turn to Him, and we must encourage our friends and family members to do likewise. Of this, you can be certain: God is sufficient to meet your needs.

Have you thanked God today for blessings that are too numerous to count? If not, it's time to slow down and offer a prayer of thanksgiving to the One who has given you Herc, and life on earth and life eternal. If you are a thoughtful Christian, you will be a thankful Christian. No matter your circumstances, you owe God so much more than you can ever repay, so thank Him ... and keep thanking Him, today, tomorrow, and forever.

I'll miss him more than anyone will ever know, but I truly believe I will see him again, One Day.

*Your Brother,

“ My Dearest Lou and Jefferson family. I can't even imagine the pain you must all be feeling. The world lost a great man. It's gonna be hard living life without him. Im hopeful that time and prayer will ease the pain, but nothing will ever fill the void. I'm thankful I had a friend like Herc. A peice of my heart has been torn out this week never to be replaced.
