“ Ms. Brenda, I am so sorry for the loss of your brother. James Robert's father and my mother were brother and sister. I spoke with Catherine and she gave me the news about James Robert. I never had a chance to meet him. I pray God will comfort you during this time.##imported-begin##Judy Hackler Whiteside##imported-end##

“ *My sadness at the news that my Uncle James was called home can only be softened by the thought that God has graciously welcomed his soul.
Uncle James was a part of my life for at least 30 of my 44 years. Like all great influences, he inspired those arouses him to be confident in all decisions, and to strive for excellence.
I will miss him greatly.*

“ I was deeply, deeply saddened to hear about the passing of our brother, James Robert Jenkins. While we know that we are only on God's earth for a short time, no one knows the day, hour or time when He will call us home. It does not lessen the emotions that we experience when we learn that God has called another one of his children home.
I pray that God will give our family the mental, physical, and spiritual strength that we will need to recover from such a huge loss.##imported-begin##Jessie Jenkins-Wilson##imported-end##
