“ *I pray God will grant us peace through the Lord Jesus Christ during this difficult time of loss. I wish I could be there this week but know I am there in spirit. Jerome was a funny cat. He was always smiling about something. Jerome AND Dennis taught me how to play jokes on people as my big cousins. (I even remember back in day Dennis teaching me the finer points of soul music when he lived with us.) I love yall!!! Let's stay in touch. Melanie (Mellie Mel) has my number. “ How sweet the sound in times of grief the song of grace can be! For God has promised good to us in love's eternity... And though our hearts cry out those whose days on earth are done, we'll meet where God's eternal praise has always "just begun".
May the Grace and Spirit of God be with you in this time if your lost.
God Bless you and your love ones.###imported-begin##George King, Jr.###imported-end##

“ Humes/Broach Family, during your time of sorrow know that you're in our prayers. An encouraging message for you: When a family member or friend dies, there is no denying the sense of loneliness and emptiness and the feeling of unfinished business—that we should have said or done more. Gaining a more—complete understanding of death and life can help us face our own mortality. We find courage, comfort and hope by viewing life in a larger context. We realize that, just as our present existence is temporary, so is death. A time is coming when we will reunite with those who have died and renew our relationships.

Although adjusting to the loss and loneliness caused by death takes time, we need to remember that even this most extreme experience does not separate us or our loved ones from God's plan or His love: "For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, . . . nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:38-39). “ Family:

We must stay strong. Know that God has all of our backs. He is our provider and care giver. As we have just lost another link in our chain know that we are all just passing thru and no one knows the day nor the hour... So we must live each day as if it's our last. Enjoy and continue to love each other.##imported-begin##Joyce Broach##imported-end##
