“ My warmest condolences to your family during this difficult time. Losing our beloved ones is a very tragic experience that is hard to cope with especially because we cannot be with them. A word of comfort in your time of sorrow. Jesus Christ promised: "Just as the Father raises the dead up and makes them alive, so the Son also makes alive whom he wants to. Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his (Jesus) voice and come out." This is in the Bible at John 5: 28, 29. You can have confidence in the word of God. The Bible speaks of a resurrection. Because you have confidence in that resurrection your sorrow will not be unrelenting. Rather, you will draw close to God in prayer, and take comfort in the promise that "He (God) himself will sustain you." Psalms 55:22.##imported-begin##V Williams##imported-end##

“ To Mother Dealia and the entire family,

I extend to you my deepest sympathy and sincerest condolences during this time... I will certainly miss him in his suit, tie and steward board badge making his way to the front of the church to receive the offering on Sunday mornings during worship. I will miss his pimp daddy like swagger that set him apart from other men. He was a strong and quiet storm that left his mark on all of whom he came into contact with. Know that the suffering is no more. The pain is no more. The many hours of uncertainty, sitting in suspense wondering truly if he would get better are no more. He is better and bolder now; for he has fallen asleep waiting the Great Getting Up morning! Be encouraged and be comforted today in Jesus name... Amen! I Love you all so very much and my prayers are with you now and throughout the days to come.

“ Dear Family: When someone we love dies it breaks our hearts. We try to accept it as 'a part of life' as we struggle to move on without them in our lives. But death is not 'a part of life', but is, instead, the very opposite of life and not something that our loving Creator ever intended for mankind to experience. Fortunately, our loving merciful God has promised that soon such events as death will no longer haunt mankind and separate us from those we love. Jehovah God has promised to destroy death (Isaiah 25:8) and to restore our loved ones to us who have died by means of a resurrection (John 5:28,29). You were so privileged to have had your loved one with you for such a long time, (Psalm 90:10) however, it is God's purpose that our loved ones remain with us forever! (Psalm 37:29) May these Bible truths bring comfort and reassurance to your hearts in the days ahead knowing that you can see your loved one, Marion, again. It is Jehovah God's desire that you do (Job 14:14,15) and he has promised that you will (Titus 1:2) My deepest sympathy to you.##imported-begin##joyce jones##imported-end##
