“ I am so sorry for your loss. Losing someone so dear may have a devastating impact upon those who love him. Working through grief takes patience. Don't feel bad for crying can serve as an emotional release. Jesus Christ "gave way to tears" when he got near the tomb where his friend Lazarus was placed when he died. Writing can also be a helpful release. Some who find it difficult to talk about their feelings may find it easier to express themselves in writing. Writing or crying, you must allow yourself time to go through the grieving process. There is hope for those we have lost in death. The resurrection. Jesus said, "I am the resurrection and the life. He that exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." While Jesus was here on earth he showed that he was able the dead (Mark 5:42) Under the rule of his Kingdom he will resurect all those still alive in God's memory. Study the Bible, learn more about His Kingdom, the resurrection, and all of the wonderful things Jehovah has in store for those who love him. Again I am so sorry for your lose, but there IS hope!###imported-begin##Tyise Gray###imported-end##

“ I am so very sorry to read of your loss. When we suffer a loss we often feel helpless and alone, I know I did. What I found comforting was encouraging words from Jehovah found at Revelation 21:3, 4.##imported-begin##sf##imported-end##

“ No matter what age a person dies, it still breaks your heart. This is not what our heavenly Father Jehovah intended for us. May your hearts be comforted during this difficult time and know that others are thinking about you.##imported-begin##Liz##imported-end##

“ I am sorry to hear about the passing of Mr. Anderson. Nothing is more painful than the loss of a loved one and my heart goes out to the family. Certainly we can look forward to the time when our loved ones will be brought back and reunited with us in paradise. I hope you and your family find comfort as you read the following scriptures: Luke chapter 23 verses 42 and 43; Revelation chapter 21 verses 3 and 4.##imported-begin##Tonya Crum##imported-end##

“ I would like to express my sincere condolence for the loss of your loved one. During this time of mourning. May you find comfort in persistent prayers, as "the peace of God that excels all thought will guard your heart and your mental powers." (Philippians 4:7) I certainly hope in knowing that God care can make a differnce at this difficult time.##imported-begin##Deborah Gipson##imported-end##
