“ Bobby is my life long friend and best buddy. We lived across the street from each other on Clarendon in Detroit and went to Pattengill Elementary together. The Brown residence was my second home. On weekends and in the summer, I would head across the street as soon as I finished breakfast. Often I would sit and chat with Mrs. Brown, waiting for Bobby and the other children to wake up so we could play. And play we did -- horse shoes, football, cards, marbles, checkers, hide and seek, and two man baseball on the front steps. Bobby was better than me at horse shoes, but I would always challenge him that I would win the next game. In the evening, family, relatives, and friends would play cards and watch movies on TV into the morning hours.

We subsequently went to different Junior High Schools. Our families moved and we got together less frequently. In more recent years our getting together was prompted by the passing of Clifford, Naomi, and Del. Then a few years ago, Bobby called and let me know as soon as I answered that this was a happy call. Natasha was getting married and it was in deed a happy event. We went to a Piston's game two seasons ago. It was the same Bobby and Billy, just like growing up on Clarendon. It was our last time together. I will miss my very good friend, but I know our love will be ever lasting.
