“ Hey Rodney/ my other half.....how do I go on everyday knowing that I will never see you again. I spent every waking moment with you...shoot I saw you more than I saw my own family lol. You taught me so much and we've been through so much together...you were my best friend. I know you wouldnt want me to be like this but you have to know that my life will never be the same again...my heart is broken forever. I hate the people that took you away from me and everybody else that loved you. You were the rock in this family and the kind of this hood.!! They took away a soldier and for that I hope they pay. Just know that I will always love you and noone will ever take the place of you being my best friend. I love you forever and always Rodney and you will live through me. R.I.P Beezy.....Love your other half Dreezy (you named me dat lol)##imported-begin##Drea a.k.a Dreezy##imported-end##

“ I am so very sorry to read of your loss. When we suffer a loss we often feel helpless and alone, I know I did. What I found comforting was encouraging words from God found at Revelation 21:3, 4.##imported-begin##sf##imported-end##

“ I'm sending my sincere condolences to each of you. We have all experienced the loss of a loved one to the enemy death, and the emotional pain is all the same. Our Heavenly Father feels the pain that you are going through. He holds out a promise that one day soon he will wipe all tears of sorrow from our eyes forever and death will be no more (Revelation 21:3-5) Additionally, He promises that all those in the memorial tombs (graves) will hear His voice and come out.
