“ I did not have the pleasure of knowing Denise as a relative or close friend. I did, however, come to know her as a warm, caring and funny instructor of my son, Brendon. Mrs. Denise was not ever put out of joint by "boys being boys". Whenever I asked her how Brendon had been in daycare her response was the same, " He's just being a boy. Give me the little boys any day!" The light of God was visible upon her, as it is upon her mother. If we know the Lord, let us not grieve for the loss of her life; but for the loss of her from our lives. She has given up her physical life for the inheritance that we all hope to gain- eternity with God. Celebrate her life and rejoice in our memories of her. Let the light that she shared shine through all whom she knew & loved.##imported-begin##Hope Watkins##imported-end##
