“ I am so sorry to hear about your loss... please try to keep close in mind the soothing words at Psalm 34:18 and know that Jehovah is near to you and your family as well as the rest of us during these trying times. And never underestimate the value of prayer. The Bible urges us at Psalm 55:22 to throw our burdens on Him and He will sustain you. And also to keep in mind the resurrection hope that has been laid before us at John 5:28-29 which brings out, “...the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out...” And also may we all keep praying for God’s Kingdom, where this last enemy, death will finally be abolished. 1 Corinthians 15:26. My prayers are with you and your family... Love Rico M.##imported-begin##Elricko Mosby##imported-end##

“ Kim, Juanita, April and family -- I am so sorry to hear of your loss! Losing a loved one is always difficult, and I can only imagine the pain of losing your mother. I pray that you will find some comfort in knowing that your mom is in a much better place, free of any pain or suffering, and she is smiling down on each of you. Even though your mom is not able to be with you physically, her spirit will be there to guide you as you move forward in your lives. And, as sisters, you have an unbreakable bond that will inevitably help carry you over this hurdle. I pray for God's blessings upon you all.##imported-begin##Tiffany Otis-Albert##imported-end##

“ Diane is/was and will always be my mother. I just moved to North Carolina in June and May was the last time I actually saw her. I will miss my mom because we have been through good, bad and ugly times. I was her first born and she spoiled me rotten as a young child. I still cannot believe that she is really gone, but I have to stay strong and know that she is in a much better place free from all of her internal pain.
