“ My deepest sympathy goes out to Christine Marie Fulford and family. It truly was a pleasure being a part of Gwen's life, even if for a brief moment. She touched my life and Christopher's in so many ways. We will always love and cherish that above all else. Rest now Gwen for I know you're at peace! And say hello to Christopher for me.

“ The precious memories of Gwendolyn Wheeler will bring you you comfort. However, even in the of calamity you can have hope. God will comfort and bless you at this critical time. Do not let your hearts be troubled. (John14:27). Complete reliance on "the God of all comfort" will help to endure his bereavement(Cor.1:3,4).##imported-begin##geneva mcclendon##imported-end##

“ I would like to offer my sincerest condolences. Know this that death will not always be an enemy of mankind. The Bible said at Psalm 68:20: “To Jehovah the Sovereign Lord belongs the ways out from death.” So take courage in his words and remember the Resurrection Hope.##imported-begin##Bobbie Smith##imported-end##

“ My hearts breaks when I hear of the death of Gwen. Even though I have not seen her since she was a young woman. She should have had eternity ahead. Death was not in our Grand Creator's plan. Jehovah the God of all comfort wanted all mankind to live forever in paradise on earth. Where there would be no sickness, death or sorrow. He knows our DNA to bring her back. This opportunity is open to Gwen and many others. As your hearts break, so does Jehovah's. Yes, we are made in His image. He has feelings. The time is coming when: "...death will be no more, neither mourning, nor outcry nor pain will be anymore". (Revelation 21:3.4) God cannot lie (Titus 2:1). It's as good as done! Gwen can rest now, until then, hold on to this precious hope. She will be looking for you Patrick and the rest of her family. We want to be there, in paradise, so she can find us. Keep the bibles words close to your heart, as you treasure the happy memories of your mom. Respectfully submitted.##imported-begin##Liz Malone-Bowman##imported-end##

“ We offer our deepest condolences to LaRue, Rickie, Christina, Carmen, and Patrick. No matter when a love one leaves they're gone too soon. May the memories of Gwen's smile, her laughter, her caring and the love she shared with you all help you to endure. So despite the pain and grief of your loss, rely completely on Jehovah "the God of comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) to comfort and ease your pain as you look forward to the fulfillment of the prophecies of Acts 24:15 and Revelation 21:3,4. (the resurrection and the end of death). Sincere love and sentiments to you as well as the Wheeler and Fulford families. ##imported-begin## Harvey and Sylvia Colston ##imported-end##
