“ Tara, the loss of a child comes with enormous pain and grief: I offer you this prayer:

Loving God, my life is upside down. The order of the world is out of place and I can't do anything to right it again. Oh, Lord, you know the pain in my heart at all times and you know why: my child has died. How can it be that my beloved child is gone? The child I cared for with such concern in every illness, the one I held close to my heart and promised to take care of for a lifetime, is not here for me to care for anymore.

Loving God: Let me feel calm. Let me breathe deeply. Be with me in this kind of deep and transformative pain. I now carry this darkness with me in my heart. Let me be grateful for every minute we had together. Let me treasure those memories and find joy in them.

Teach me, Lord. Tell me what you want me to do with this. What am I supposed to learn from this kind of pain? What are you calling me to do? Open my battered heart and lead me to comfort and peace. Only you can give me the peace I need.

Sometimes there are no words but other times prayers do provide some comfort. We are deeply sorry for your loss. We are praying for you and the kids.

“ Dear Family of Nakia,
Although I do not know you personally, I believe that I understand what you/your family are. I lost my oldest daughter last August. Although words of comfort may not feel very comforting at this moment, please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers. Reminisce on the wonderful memories that you have. In time the pain WILL lessen. May God keep and comfort you.###imported-begin##Regina Daniels###imported-end##

“ As your heart breaks at the loss of Nakia, it's so important to reflect on the happier memories you shared with her. Look at photos and videos; it might be painful at first. But, those memories will help you to heal. "Throw your burden upon Jehovah himself, and he himself will sustain you". Psalms 55:22 Prayer to God is not an emotional crutch. It is real and vital communication with the "God of all comfort", who will comfort us in all our tribulation". 2 Corinthians 1:3, 4; Revelations 21:3-5, Acts 24:15.##imported-begin##Mrs. Malone##imported-end##
