“ Raychelle,

*Step by step we climb each day
Closer to God with each prayer we pray
For "the cry of the heart" offered in prayer
Becomes just another "spiritual stair"
In the heavenly stair case leading us to
A beautiful place where we live anew...
So never give up for it's worth the climb
To live forever in endless time
Where the soul of man is safe & free
To live in love through eternity!
...HSR*

My prayers are with the family during this very difficult time.

Rayven, Raychelle will always grow within you. Cherish that thought always.

“ You are the best friend I could have ever wished to have in my life. It's funny to see how many things remind me of you that I never realized, so I know I will always keep you with me. Through good and bad you were always there when I needed you. I will always remember how how much better you treated people than they treated you, because of how good of a person you are. You used to tell me how much people would miss you when you were gone, but I never could imagine it would be this soon. I know you were tired and now the physical and mental pain is over, and that you are in a better place, but I still selfishly wish you were here. I will always love and miss you.##imported-begin##Richard Bratton##imported-end##

“Raychelle and my mother were co-workers on the DPD for several years. After learning that we had both been diagnosed with breast cancer around the same time, we often chatted whenever I was in the station to compare notes, compare meds and treatments and joke about the “joys” of the reconstructed breast. She and I shared a four year anniversary this past spring. My head is still spinning with the news of her death. Too soon, my friend, too soon.

This past Saturday, I participated in a Relay for Life fundraiser hosted by the American Cancer Society. I lit a luminary in her memory just hours after her passing. I lit a second light for those we leave behind.

I am comforted by a thought, imparted to me by my boyfriend Eric... He said, “At least now you know she is at peace and cancer free.”

Free.

I carried this thought with me at the Relay, as we celebrated the memories and survivorship of those affected by cancer. I will carry this thought as I reach milestones and victories on the road to my own recovery. I will carry this thought like an umbrella on a rainy day, when the burden weighs too heavily on my shoulder.

Free.

Too soon, my Pink Ribbon Sister, too soon you’ve flown away from us—but what a path you leave in your wake! I’ll remember your courage with every cotton candy sunset, every battle scar, bump and bruise—until we meet again.

“...and He will wipe away every tear from their eyes; and there will no longer be any death; there will no longer be any mourning, or crying or pain” Revelation 21:4

God Bless!

“ Raychelle's husband and my husband were partners for the Detroit Police Dept. for many years. That's how we met and we hit off on the first double date. My husband was in their wedding, Raychelle and I were pregnant at the same time and my family was part of the celebration when she and Ray bought their first and second home. I'll always remember Raychelle's jolly cheeks surrounding her pleasant smile. I'll always remember the times we spent together, not as partner's wives, but as friends. I'll miss girl. It's so hard to say goodbye.
