“ While the loss of a loved one is never easy, even when anticipated, it is most certainly the hardest when they are taken from us too soon.

I offer my sincere condolence and deepest sympathy on your loss. May the outpouring of sympathy, the kind acts of friends and strangers and the comfort in knowing that your loss is felt by many, help you through this difficult time.

I ask for God's blessings on you and your wonderful family. May you find the courage and strength to move forward in peace and confidence and in knowing that she was a life well-lived.

With my deepest sympathy,

Mike and Gwen ~

Your family is in our thoughts and prayers. Mike, I know it was a special blessing for you to be able to be by her side when she slipped away to be with her Lord and Savior. We never can bear to see our loved ones hurt and although we say we are thankful that they are no longer hurting, we know we have that tug at our heart that tells us we still are not ready to let go, we never are ready in our time, but we know God writes the script.

We rejoice with the fact that she is in her new life of the resurrection. I know this is what her faith taught her and that belief will bring you some comfort in your sorrow.

We love you and here for you.

“ The Rose beyond the Wall

Near shady wall a rose once grew, Buddedd and blossomed in God's free light, watered and fed by morning dew, shedding its sweetness day and night. As it grew and blossomed fair and tall, slowly rising to loftier height, it came to a crevice in the wall, through which there shone a beam of light. Onward it crept with added strength, with never a thought of fear or pride; it followed the light through the crevice-length and unfolded itself on the other side. The light, the dew, the broadening view, were found the same, as they were before; and it lost itself beauties new, breathing its fragrance more and more. Shall claim of death cause us to grieve and make our courage faint or fall? Nay, let us faith and hope receive; The rose still grows beyond the wall, scattering fragrance far and wide, just as it did on the other side, just as it will forevermore (author A.L. Frink). This poem I give to Charles, Michael, & Machele with all our love/prayers. We are just a email/telephone call away.##imported-begin##Glori, Arthur III, & Alexis Edge##imported-end##
